

The GW School of Business is seeking partnerships with a diversity of global businesses for the Consulting Abroad Program (CAP), a synthesizing course for the Global MBA program.

CAP is a compulsory project-based learning experience which provides a unique opportunity for students to apply their professional backgrounds, market skills and theoretical understanding to gain new sector knowledge and provide workable solutions to Global Partners around the world.

More than 130 organizations in 19 countries have benefited from CAP partnership’s meaningful and actionable solutions. Recent partners include:

CAREERFOUNDRY

Through their participation, Partner Organizations receive gratis and data-driven recommendations for a specific business need, exposure to the latest business tools and techniques from top MBA students and faculty, and connection to future talent.

We seek partnership with organizations who could benefit from insights including but not limited to:

Branding

Finance

Human Capital

Operations

CSR

Growth Planning

Marketing

Supply Chain

Companies interested in the benefits of hosting a GW School of Business CAP project can learn more and submit a partner project proposal: <https://business.gwu.edu/partner-with-us>