

INTERNATIONAL Summer at GW

ENGLISH for
ACADEMIC PURPOSES

JUNE 30
to
AUGUST 10
2019

WANT TO GET A HEAD START ON YOUR STUDIES AND LIFE AS A STUDENT AT GW? NEED TO STRENGTHEN YOUR ACADEMIC WRITING, RESEARCH AND COMMUNICATION SKILLS?

Undergraduate and graduate international students applying to degree programs at GW who are non-native speakers of English are invited to enroll in summer English for Academic Purposes (EAP) courses.

Why SUMMER Study?

- ▶ Complete your English language requirements in six weeks
- ▶ Engage in small classes that enhance personal learning
- ▶ Get to know your faculty and adjust to your new environment as you prepare for your program of study
- ▶ Participate in dynamic programs that connect you to cultural, international and political resources of Washington, D.C.
- ▶ Practice your speaking skills and connect with a community of American and international peers
- ▶ Take advantage of the summer EAP tuition discount when you enroll in two EAP courses

Students have the option of residing in an international student community at our Foggy Bottom Campus in the heart of Washington, D.C. Our campus is accessible by public transit and within walking distance of the White House, Smithsonian Institution and the World Bank. Residence halls are staffed by full-time program assistants who help students integrate into GW by providing social and cultural programs. These include sessions with admissions and career representatives, site visits to cultural institutions and day trips to nearby sites. Students have full access to university facilities, libraries, fitness centers, computer labs and student health services.

THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY

WASHINGTON, DC

INTERNATIONAL Summer at GW

SUMMER EAP COURSES

Arrival and Orientation: June 30

Class Sessions: July 1 – August 10

For UNDERGRADUATE Students:

AMERICAN MULTICULTURAL PERSPECTIVES: WASHINGTON, D.C.

A structured academic writing course that explores Washington D.C.'s rich multicultural heritage and prepares international undergraduate students for university-level writing expectations. Focused on the development of academic literacy skills, drafting and revising and research-based writing.

ACADEMIC COMMUNICATION

A diverse set of classroom activities and assignments will help students understand the U.S. classroom culture, assess different communicative contexts, develop tools and strategies for oral communication and upgrade fluency and confidence in spoken English.

CONTACT

Undergraduate Admissions intadm@gwu.edu ♦ 202-994-6040

For GRADUATE Students:

ACADEMIC WRITING AND RESEARCH I & II

An academic writing course that prepares students for the writing expectations of graduate school in the U.S., focusing on research and source use; planning, drafting and revising academic papers; and improving vocabulary and grammar for clear and effective writing.

ACADEMIC COMMUNICATION

An interactive course that acclimates students to the oral communication expectations of graduate school through understanding contexts for academic speaking, expanding communicative vocabulary, leading and participating in class discussions and preparing and delivering informal and formal presentations.

CONTACT

College of Professional Studies applycps@gwu.edu ♦ 703-299-9142

Columbian College of Arts and Sciences askccas@gwu.edu ♦ 202-994-6210

Elliott School of International Affairs esiaiso@gwu.edu ♦ 202-994-6240

Engineering and Applied Sciences engineering@gwu.edu ♦ 202-596-7239

School of Business sbglobal@gwu.edu ♦ 202-994-2648

Other Schools gwsummer@gwu.edu ♦ 202-994-6360

PROGRAM COSTS

Costs include tuition and fees, housing and dining (optional) and health insurance.

Tuition is discounted for students enrolled in two EAP courses. Program costs are posted on our website.

THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY
WASHINGTON, DC

SUMMER.GWU.EDU/EAP