

On Sale Promos (www.OnSalePromos.com) is a promotional product/ad specialty marketing firm specializing in providing promotional products and corporate gifts to corporations across the country. We are a small business located right by the Mount Vernon Campus area (and owned by the husband of a GW Professor. We service local, national, and international companies, and some of our clients include the Food and Drug Administration (FDA), FDIC, Travelocity, University of Maryland, GWU, Fannie Mae, Verizon, and State Farm.

OSP, LLC is looking for positive outgoing persons who are interesting in interning this Spring. The internship is marketing and sales based - you will be assisting in marketing and research campaigns, differing our opportunity from typical internships involving filing and copying. It's a real hands-on job at a small business that will give you valuable experience managing for different methods of lead generation and push marketing. Through this internship, you will learn how a small business operates but also have potential to move up to different positions in the company. Students interested in entrepreneurship and small business management should certainly apply, plus there's an opportunity to receive 1 or 3 credits for this internship in conjunction with independent research under a faculty advisor if interested.

Any major can apply. Start date is January 28, 2007 - 15 – 20 hours per week commitment needed. Up to 5 different internship slots available.

Testimonials:

“The face-to-face client experience offered at OSP has given me networking experience with many marketing industry contacts – a tremendous advantage in my career path of sales and marketing.” - Jai Patel

“With the career potential and the valuable training opportunity, the Marketing Internship is a unique ‘fit’ for eager professionals looking to make a significant impact with a growing company.” – Josh Kaufman

Please send all inquires and resumes to Devlin Keating @ devlinkeating@onsalepromos.com.